

Algorithm

What is algorithm?

A set of detailed, step-by-step instructions to solve a problem.

Why is it important?

In order to write a computer program, you need to have a series of instructions, of different level of complexities, in a specific order, to perform a specific task.

Let's do an example, what are the instructions to walk out the door?

Create an algorithm for brushing your hair!